

About the University

Welcome to California State University, Fullerton, where we create opportunities in and out of the classroom for students, faculty and staff to work and learn together. Our campus offers a student-centered atmosphere – an atmosphere that is responsive to who our students are, and what they hope to become.

This is possible because our highly qualified and diverse faculty provide undergraduate and graduate programs that help our students reach their personal and professional best. Our professors do an exceptional job of providing students with undergraduate and graduate programs that reflect the best of current practice, theory and research. Faculty members work directly with our students in their classrooms, laboratories and studios.

At California State University, Fullerton, our students have so many opportunities to reach their full potential. Our eight colleges offer more than 100 degree programs, so students can explore new areas and find a major that is right for them. With full overall accreditation from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, many of our programs are further distinguished by discipline-specific national accreditations and associations. In addition, many have achieved national prominence because of the excellence of our faculty and the achievements of our alumni.

As a Cal State Fullerton student, you will learn from highly accomplished faculty members who create an exceptional learning environment. We encourage you to go beyond the classroom, and apply knowledge to real-world experiences – undergraduate research, professional internships, prestigious competitions, study abroad and more.

On our campus you experience real life – a vibrant, metropolitan university environment with real-world connections to business, government, entertainment and the arts. Take a tour of our amazing facilities, and meet our students. There are nearly 35,000 students on campus who reflect California's rich, multicultural population. Many are the first in their families to attend college. For others, joining our proud Titan alumni network has become a tradition among relatives and friends.

At Cal State Fullerton you can make the most of your college experience. You will meet and make lifelong friends, and have so many choices to get involved with the campus and community. What's more, a wide network of student support services will help you get started, succeed and stay on track to graduation.

Your future is full of promise. I am proud to say that Cal State Fullerton has made a difference in the lives of more than 200,000 Titan graduates, and we are committed to making a difference in your life as well.

The California State University

The individual California State Colleges were brought together as a system by the Donahoe Higher Education Act of 1960. In 1972, the system became the California State University and Colleges, and in 1982 the system became the California State University. Today the campuses of the CSU include comprehensive and polytechnic universities and, since July 1995, the California Maritime Academy, a specialized campus.

The oldest campus – San José State University – was founded in 1857 and became the first institution of public higher education in California. The newest – CSU Channel Islands – opened in fall 2002, with freshmen arriving in fall 2003.

Responsibility for the California State University is vested in the Board of Trustees, whose members are appointed by the governor. The trustees appoint the chancellor, who is the chief executive officer of the system, and the presidents, who are the chief executive officers of the respective campuses.

The trustees, the chancellor and the presidents develop systemwide policy, with implementation at the campus level taking place through broadly based consultative procedures. The Academic Senate of the California State University, made up of elected representatives of the faculty from each campus, recommends academic policy to the Board of Trustees through the chancellor.

Academic excellence has been achieved by the California State University through a distinguished faculty whose primary responsibility is superior teaching. While each campus in the system has its own unique geographic and curricular character, all campuses, as multipurpose institutions, offer undergraduate and graduate instruction for professional and occupational goals as well as broad liberal education. All campuses require for graduation a basic program of “General Education Requirements” regardless of the type of bachelor’s degree or major field selected by the student.

The CSU offers high-quality, affordable bachelor’s and master’s level degree programs. Many of these programs are offered so that students can complete all upper-division and graduate requirements by part-time, late afternoon and evening study. In addition, a variety of teaching and school service credential programs are available. A limited number of doctoral degrees are offered jointly with the University of California and with private institutions in California. In 2005, the CSU was authorized to independently offer educational doctorate (Ed.D.) programs.

Enrollment in fall 2009 totaled 433,000 students, who were taught by more than 21,000 faculty. The system awards about half of the bachelor’s degrees and a third of the master’s degrees granted in California. More than 2.5 million students have graduated from CSU campuses since 1961. A recent economic report found that the CSU supports more than 150,000 jobs statewide, annually. The engine driving job creation is more than $17 billion in economic activity that directly results from CSU-related spending that generates $5.43 for every dollar the state invests. ACADEMIC FREEDOM AND RESPONSIBILITY

The Academic Senate of California State University, Fullerton endorses the American Association of University Professors 2009 Statement of Professional Ethics (University Policy Statement 230.000).

HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY

In 1957, Cal State Fullerton became the 12th State College in California to be authorized by the Legislature. The following year a site was designated in northeast Fullerton. It was purchased in 1959, when Dr. William B. Langsdorf was appointed as founding president, the first staff was selected and plans for opening the new college were made. Orange County State College started classes for 452 full- and/or part-time students in September, 1959, using leased quarters for its administrative offices on the Fullerton Union High School campus and for its classrooms at Fullerton's Sunny Hills High School. In the fall of 1960, the college opened classes on its own campus, where it occupied 12 temporary buildings. The name changed to Orange State College in July 1962, to California State College at Fullerton in July 1964, to California State College, Fullerton in July 1968 and to California State University, Fullerton in June 1972. The first permanent building, the six-story Letters and Science Building (now known as McCarthy Hall), was occupied in 1963.

Today, there is much dramatic evidence of additional, rapid growth. A number of new buildings have been completed, and enrollment has climbed to nearly 36,000. Since 1963 the curriculum has expanded to include lower-division work and many graduate programs, as well as numerous credential and certificate programs.

The Donahoe Higher Education Act of 1960 established the California State Colleges as a system under an independent Board of Trustees, redefined the functions of the State Colleges, and related them to both the community colleges and the University of California system.

In May 1971, Dr. L. Donald Shields, who had served as acting president for seven months, was appointed the second president of Cal State Fullerton. Dr. Miles D. McCarthy became acting president in January 1981; Dr. Jewel Plummer Cobb took office as the third president in October 1981; and Dr. Milton A. Gordon was appointed the fourth president in August 1990.

ENVIRONMENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

Fullerton, a city of more than 135,000 inhabitants, is located in north Orange County, about 30 miles southeast of central Los Angeles. It is part of the Southern California population center and within easy freeway access of all the diverse natural and cultural attractions of this region.

Orange County, with an area of 798.3 square miles, is the 47th in size of California's 58 counties, but it is the third largest county in population (more than 3.1 million) and the sixth most populous in the nation. Orange County has experienced during the last four decades almost unprecedented growth as communities continue to occupy the diminishing expanses of open land.

Today, there co-exists an interesting mixture of the old and new economic and life styles in Orange County. Underneath the soil, archeologist and bulldozers uncover traces of the hunting and gathering Indian bands who flourished at least as early as 4,000 years ago in what was a benign and bountiful region. More visible traces remain of the Spanish and Mexican periods and cultures: Mission San Juan Capistrano, which began the agricultural tradition in Orange County, and subsequent adobes from the great land grants and ranches that followed. Additionally, both customs and many names persist from this period, and so does some ranching. The architectural and other evidences of the subsequent pioneer period are still quite visible: farmsteads, old buildings from the new towns that were established in the late 1800s, mining operations, and traces of early resort and other types of promotional activities. For about 100 years, farming was the main economic activity with products such as grapes, walnuts, vegetables and oranges replacing the older wheat and cattle ranches. Today, agriculture still is very important. Orange County ranks high among California's counties in mineral production with its oil, natural gas, sand and gravel, and clay mining and processing activities.

The extensive development of the 42 miles of beaches in Orange County and the development of such attractions as the Disneyland Resort, Knott's Berry Farm, the Laguna Festival of Arts and Pageant of the Masters, the Honda Center, Angel Stadium, the Anaheim Convention Center and the Orange County Performing Arts Center continue to make tourism an increasingly important activity.

So does the Mediterranean-type climate, with rainfall averaging 14 inches per year, and generally mild days (either freezing or 100-degree temperatures are uncommon) with frequent morning fog during the summer. Both downtown Los Angeles and the Pacific Ocean can be reached by car in half an hour, and mountain and desert recreation areas are as close as an hour's drive from the campus.

THE CAMPUS AND ITS BUILDINGS

Once part of a vast orange grove, Cal State Fullerton's attractively landscaped main campus now consists of 236 acres bounded on the south by Nutwood Avenue, on the west by State College Boulevard, on the north by Yorba Linda Boulevard and on the east by the Orange Freeway (57).

The portion of Orange County immediately surrounding the campus is predominantly suburban; it includes housing tracts, apartment complexes, shopping centers and industrial parks.

Other educational institutions also are part of the immediate environment. The Southern California College of Optometry opened in the spring of 1973. It is just north of Cal State Fullerton.

To Cal State's immediate south is Hope International University, a liberal arts school with a Bible emphasis, where students started classes in the fall of 1973. Western State University College of Law occupied its new campus to the immediate west of Cal State in January 1975.

The Cal State Fullerton campus itself has an efficient urban layout of facilities developed to serve a predominantly commuting public. The university's modern buildings were planned so that no student needs more than 10 minutes to go from one class to another. The campus is surrounded with landscaped parking areas.

The first permanent building, the Letters and Science Building, was occupied in 1963. This imposing structure, master planned to serve ultimately as a facility for undergraduate and graduate science instruction and research, has been used to house other programs until they could warrant new facilities of their own. This building is now called Miles D. McCarthy Hall.

Since 1963, growth has been rapid. The Performing Arts Center was completed in 1964, the Physical Education Building in 1965, the Library Building in 1966, the Commons in 1967, the Humanities-Social Sciences Building and Visual Arts Center in 1969, William B. Langsdorf Hall (Administration- Business Administration) and the Engineering Building in 1971, the Student Health Center in 1974, the Education-Classroom Building and University Center in 1976, an addition to the Visual Arts Center in 1979, the Jewel Plummer Cobb Residence Halls and the Charles L. and Rachael E. Ruby Gerontology Center in 1988, and the Fullerton Marriott and the Computer Science Building in 1989. The Ruby Gerontology Center was the first building on campus financed solely by contributed funds; the Fullerton Marriott, a full-service hotel, resulted from a joint venture involving the Marriott Corp., the university and the city of Fullerton.

An expansion of the Titan Student Union (formerly known as the University Center) and the Titan Sports Complex, featuring the multipurpose 10,000-seat Titan Stadium, baseball pavilion, track and tennis courts, were completed in 1992. The Titan Student Union houses a 1,200-seat pavilion, small theater, food court, pub, bowling alley and conference rooms. The five-story University Hall, with classrooms, faculty offices, and student and academic support services, was occupied in 1993, followed by the two-story Science Laboratory Center in 1994. The Science Laboratory Center was renamed and dedicated as Dan Black Hall in fall 2006. A four-story addition to the University Library was completed in 1996, and the entire complex was dedicated as the Paulina June & George Pollak Library in 1998. The 10-story College Park building on Nutwood Avenue provides additional classrooms and office space for university staff and faculty members.

A 71,000-square-foot expansion of the Kinesiology and Health Science Building was completed in 2003. The addition includes the Wellness Center for Successful Aging, practice gymnasium, seminar rooms, faculty offices and a 125-seat lecture hall. A new 109,000-square-foot Performing Arts Center opened in January 2006 and was named the Joseph A.W. Clayes III Performing Arts Center in September 2008. The complex features venues that include an 800-seat concert hall, 250-seat thrust-stage theater and a 150-seat black box theater. Three parking structures – completed in 2004, 2006 and 2010 – provide on-campus parking for about 5,500 vehicles, expanding the overall number of parking spaces on campus to nearly 12,000.

Steven G. Mihaylo Hall, home of the Mihaylo College of Business and Economics, opened in fall 2008. The five-story, 195,000-square-foot facility provides a state-of-the-art learning environment, including technologically advanced classrooms and lecture halls, computer labs, and houses the college's renowned centers and institutes. Also completed in 2008 was the Student Recreation Center. The two-story, 95,000-square-foot facility features a rock climbing wall, multicourt gymnasium, one of the largest cardio/weight rooms on a West Coast campus, an outdoor leisure and lap pool, multimedia cardio room and indoor track.

Cal State Fullerton's on-campus student-resident population more than doubled with the completion of our new $143-million residence hall complex in summer 2011, adding 1,064 beds to the existing 880. Located immediately south of our existing student housing, the complex includes a state-of-the-art dining facility, recreational and study facilities on each floor, smart classrooms, a convenience store, laundry and mail facilities, new complex coordinator and faculty-in-residence apartments, to name a few. Other new additions to campus in 2010-2011 included a new home for University Police, as well as a new and expanded Children's Center. The new $8.7-million facility, built for this Associated Students, Inc. program, offers a program accredited by the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

In the northeast corner of the campus is the Fullerton Arboretum, which was dedicated in the fall of 1979 in a joint venture with the city of Fullerton. The 26-acre botanical garden is a living museum of rare plants from around the world. The ecologically arranged botanical collection depicts habitats from the desert to the tropics. With its ponds, streams and wildlife, it offers a tranquil retreat from our fast-growing urban life. In spring 2006, the university welcomed the opening of the Fullerton Arboretum Visitor Center and the Orange County Agricultural and Nikkei Heritage Museum, the campus's first "green" building. The Fullerton Arboretum also is home to Heritage House, a restored 19th-century dwelling, and serves as a cultural museum for North Orange County.

Cal State Fullerton is one of the most energy-efficient campuses anywhere, and has been since the early 1990s. The university has been honored three times by the University of California/California State University Energy Efficiency Partnership Program including "Best Overall Sustainable Design" awards for the Student Recreation Center and the Fullerton Arboretum Visitor Center and Orange County Agricultural and Nikkei Heritage Museum. The awards recognize reduced use of natural resources during construction and ongoing energy conservation efforts throughout the life of new buildings and major renovations. Water savings, sustainable site development, energy efficiency, materials selection and indoor environmental quality are among the key elements considered in the design, construction and operation of green buildings. The Student Recreation Center achieved a Gold rating by the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Green Building Rating System, which is the nationally accepted benchmark. Mihaylo Hall, operates at a LEED Silver level.

The ample freeway and surface street accommodations that approach the main entrance to the university's campus also provide comparatively easy access to the great and diverse learning resources available in Southern California: many other colleges and universities; museums, libraries and art galleries; zoos; and the wide variety of economic, governmental, social, and cultural activities and experiences that may be found in this dynamic and complex region of California and the United States.

Information concerning the instructional, laboratory and other physical facilities that relate to the academic program may be obtained from the Office of Facilities Management.

University Extended Education (UEE) certificate classes for professional development are also offered in a wide variety of areas, with classes conveniently scheduled in the evening or on weekends. The CSUF Garden Grove Center is located at 1290 Euclid Street.

STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY

Much of the distinctive character and learning atmosphere of any campus comes from the nature and vitality of its students. Diversity, the synthesis of academic study with work and family interests, and strong records of participation and achievement are hallmarks of the student body at Cal State Fullerton.

The university is primarily a community-based institution, with three on-campus residence facilities. The majority of our students live in Orange County. Sixty-eight percent of all students take 12 or more hours of coursework each semester. Of the fall 2010 new undergraduate students, 44 percent came from California public high schools, 4 percent from California private high schools, 50 percent came from California community colleges, 0.2 percent from other Cal State campuses, 0.3 percent from other California colleges and universities, and 1.5 percent from other states or other countries. The fall 2010 new graduate students came from Cal State University campuses (52 percent), other California colleges and universities (27 percent), and other states or other countries (21 percent).

The student body is 11 percent first-time freshmen, 17 percent other lower division, 56 percent upper division, and 16 percent graduate levels. Fifty-eight percent of all students are women. The median age of all students is 22; undergraduates have a median age of 21, while graduate students have a median age of 28. Course offerings during the day and at night provide our students with flexibility in their schedules. Most students choose to attend during the daytime.

Virtually all upper-division and graduate students have declared a major field of study. Seventeen percent of our lower-division students are in the process of exploring different fields prior to declaring a major. During 2009-2010, 6,481 undergraduates received their baccalaureate degrees, 1,314 graduates received their master's degrees, and 7 graduates received their Ed.D. degrees.

THE FACULTY

Central to the effectiveness of any institution of higher learning is the quality and dedication of its individual faculty members to teaching and scholarship.

In the fall of 2009, there were 876 full-time faculty and administrators and 870 part-time faculty members teaching on the campus. Almost all the full-time faculty had some previous college or university teaching experience before coming to Fullerton. Faculty members also have a wide variety of scholarly experiences and creative activities. Eighty-one percent of the full-time faculty have earned their doctoral degrees.

Criteria for selection to the faculty include mastery of knowledge in an academic specialty, demonstrated skill and experience in teaching, and continuing interest in scholarly study and research. Retention and promotion criteria also include service to the university and community.

Information concerning the faculty and other personnel may be obtained from the Office of Faculty Affairs and Records.

Many academic departments and colleges are supported by advisory councils and boards, which are composed of community and campus leaders and alumni who are committed to sharing their expertise and providing support to individual colleges within the university.

Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI)

For three decades, Cal State Fullerton's learning in retirement program has offered individuals who are retired, semi-retired or approaching retirement age an opportunity to enjoy experiential learning in classes for an active, healthy life. The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at California State University, Fullerton (OLLI-CSUF) is a nationally recognized, self-supported organization offering a wide range of programs that are created and directed by its many talented members. This organization was founded as Continuing Learning Experience (CLE) in 1979.

For an annual membership fee that includes parking, OLLI-CSUF members enjoy the university setting and many student privileges. Programs include self-directed study groups, educational lectures, discussion groups, computer education, arts workshops, physical activities, special events, social activities and travel opportunities. Select classes, including Transitions in Retirement Essentials, are open to the public.

OLLI-CSUF curriculum, social and travel committees respond to requests of the membership in determining offerings each semester. While members learn from each other, they also learn from community leaders, university professors and other leading authorities.

The OLLI-CSUF office is housed in the Ruby Gerontology Center, a research and conference facility built with private funds raised in large part from members of this outstanding program.

Emeriti

The Emeriti of California State University, Fullerton, is a formal association of all persons awarded emeritus status by the president of CSUF. The emeriti, as an association, exists to promote the welfare of California State University, Fullerton; to enhance the continuing professionalism of the emeriti; to provide for the fellowship of the members; and awards two student scholarships each year. Through affiliation with the system-wide CSU emeriti organization, California State University Emeritus and Retired Faculty Association, emeriti concerns are presented to all branches of the government and the Chancellor's Office.

Friends of the Fullerton Arboretum

Friends of the Fullerton Arboretum support the 26-acre botanical garden located on the northeast corner of campus. The Friends coordinate the work of the many volunteers needed to maintain the gardens, programs and events. Friends host tours of the Arboretum and Heritage House museum, a turn-of-the-century residence listed in the National Register of Historic Places and the Inventory of California Historic Sites. Through plant sales, facility rentals and special events, the Friends contribute operating monies for the Arboretum and fund student scholarships.

MAMM Alliance for the Performing Arts

The MAMM Alliance supports excellence in performing arts programming for the CSUF College of the Arts. Originally organized in 2001 as a foundation in honor of the late philanthropist Marcy Arroues Mulville, the Alliance joined Cal State Fullerton in 2006. During her lifetime, Marcy Arroues Mulville was credited with founding, supporting and advancing more than 26 nonprofit organizations, starting with Cal State Fullerton, where she founded the Music Associates. She was a key figure in the early years of the Pacific Symphony Orchestra and donor to the CSUF's Performing Arts Center.

The Alliance's mission and purpose includes underwriting legendary guest artist performances, royalty support for major productions, guest artist solo performances with student ensembles, professional ensembles and artist residencies. Additionally, the Marcy Award honoring an outstanding community volunteer is awarded annually.

Music Associates

Music Associates at California State University, Fullerton, contributes to the Department of Music through funding of student scholarships and performance awards that recognize excellence in vocal and instrumental performance and that encourage and develop the technical and creative skills of talented and dedicated music students.

Music Associates members attend campus performances, sponsor the annual "Carol Candlelight Dinner Concert" and the spring "Music and Magic Luncheon" fundraisers that feature the University Singers and performances by scholarship winners.

Patrons of the Library

Community members, alumni and faculty and staff members interested in enhancing the excellence of the Pollak Library belong to Patrons of the Library. The group sponsors exhibits and operates a book sale center in conjunction with the Emeriti. Funds raised through book sales, dues and donations support the augmentation of library holdings and facilities.

President's Associates

For nearly forty years, the President's Associates have been an integral part of Cal State Fullerton's emergence as an institution of academic excellence.

This premier support group – whose members are themselves leaders in their respective communities and industries – plays a crucial role, through personal involvement and financial commitment, in advancing the university's dedication to scholarship, teaching and community service.

Membership in the President's Associates is conferred upon those who make an annual gift of $1,000 or more to any campus department or program. Generous support of Cal State Fullerton ensures our continued success in the education of our region's next generation of leaders.

Reading Educators Guild

Graduates who earn a master of science in education with a concentration in reading and other interested individuals are eligible for membership in the Reading Educators Guild, one of the oldest alumni support groups on the CSUF campus. Working in close relationship with the Reading Department, the Guild provides service as a professional development and networking organization for reading educators. REG also provides support for the Reading Department in a variety of ways, including the awarding of scholarships to both Reading Center and graduate students. Throughout the school year, the Guild holds various activities, lectures and conferences, promoting effective reading instruction.

Titan Athletics Club

Fullerton Athletics is strong because alumni, parents and fans work together to keep our student-athletes competitive. And there is no better way to do that than through the Titan Athletics Club.

The Titan Athletics Club was founded to organize the Cal State Fullerton Athletic Department's fundraising efforts, with the mission of providing financial support to enhance the experiences of our student-athletes.

Support from alumni, parents and fans leads Cal State Fullerton's commitment to improving our facilities, attracting and retaining outstanding coaches, and providing an environment that will make Fullerton the first choice for premier student-athletes.

Every gift helps to build a lasting foundation for excellence in Cal State Fullerton Athletics.

The academic and athletic success Fullerton has enjoyed throughout the years has taken a great deal of effort, commitment, and sacrifice.

For more information, contact the Titan Athletics Club office at 657-278-4407, pjones@fullerton.edu or www.fullerton.edu/tac.

At the heart of an open society is the free flow of information. Delivery systems of those messages may change with development of new technologies, but the need for trained communicators to gather, synthesize, verify and disseminate that information remains constant. Training those communication professionals is the mission of the College of Communications.

Academic programs in the College of Communications prepare students to work in a number of media-related industries, as well as related fields in business, education, government, healthcare, entertainment and more. Communicators may be objective reporters of news and information, persuasive advocates on behalf of clients and organizations, or trained specialists enabling others to communicate effectively.

Drawing heavily on strong theoretical foundations in the liberal arts and social sciences, the College of Communications applies the tools and techniques of today’s ever-changing environment to match messages with audiences, and provide students with the skill-sets to enjoy successful careers in an increasingly global competitive arena.

With strong linkage to the professional community, the College of Communications offers an exciting opportunity for state-of-the-art education combined with the highest ethical and professional standards.
