The WBHR Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation Bridge to the Doctorate Fellowship (LSAMP-BD) program, with generous funding from the National Science Foundation aims to recruit, retain, and graduate increased numbers of under-represented minority STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics) professionals.

Fellows receive intensive mentoring and academic support to assist them with the successful completion of their graduate studies. Once the initial two-year LSAMP-BD funding has been completed with satisfactory progress in the program, fellows will receive assistantships and full or partial tuition support by other HU funding mechanisms to ensure their timely graduation.

BD @ HU OFFERS:

- ✓ $32,000 stipend
- ✓ Cost of education allowance
- ✓ Professional development, workshops and seminars
- ✓ Research supplies
- ✓ Travel to professional conferences

ELIGIBILITY:

- ✓ Verified participation in LSAMP as an undergrad
- ✓ Bachelor's degree in any STEM field
- ✓ 3.2 minimum GPA
- ✓ Be admitted to a HU STEM PhD program
- ✓ US Citizen or Permanent Resident

Funded by the National Science Foundation and Howard University
